

2013 Minneapolis voter information

Voting on Election Day is your chance to shape the future of our city. November 5 is Election Day in Minneapolis, and it's easy to take part. Democracy needs citizens who take their rights and responsibilities seriously.

It's your city.
It's your vote.

On the ballot in the City of Minneapolis 2013 municipal election:

Mayor
City Council (by ward)
Board of Estimate & Taxation
(at large)
Park & Recreation commissioners
(at large and by district)
Proposed charter amendments

What's on the ballot

All municipal offices are on the 2013 ballot: mayor, City Council members, Board of Estimate & Taxation members, and Minneapolis Park & Recreation Board commissioners. The ballot also includes two city questions, which are proposed amendments to the City charter. The candidates we elect Nov. 5 will have important roles in leading our city and making decisions on large and small issues that affect all of us. Here's what these officeholders do:

Mayor

The mayor proposes the City's annual budget and helps set City policy. The mayor nominates City department heads and helps prioritize and shape the work of departments. The mayor also has the responsibility to either approve or veto all City Council and Park Board actions.

City Council members

The City Council establishes the general policies of the City to insure the health, safety and welfare of the city's residents. The City Council's actions are subject to the approval of the mayor. The council levies taxes, enacts ordinances and resolutions, licenses businesses, and exercises budgetary and policy control over City departments. City Council members for all 13 wards in the city will be on the ballot.

Board of Estimate & Taxation members

The board sets maximum tax levies for City funds each year at the recommendation of the mayor and City Council. As part of the process, the board holds public hearings to get public input on the maximum levy, and it also reviews selected City department budgets. Two at-large positions will be on the ballot.

Park & Recreation commissioners

Park & Recreation Board commissioners are responsible for overseeing the city's parks system, which includes park planning and engineering, maintenance, forestry, horticulture, park police, and recreation. Three at-large positions and six district positions will be on the ballot.

How ranked-choice voting works

What is ranked-choice voting?

Ranked-choice voting allows you to rank up to three candidates for each municipal office. Because Minneapolis uses ranked-choice voting, there is no primary. The primary and general election are combined into a single election Nov. 5, 2013.

Here's how to rank your choices on your ballot:

How do I vote?

Just like any other election year, you will vote by filling in ovals on a paper ballot. But in 2013, instead of marking one candidate in each race, you will be able to rank up to three candidates.

Each ballot will have three columns. For each office, complete your ballot from left to right, making your first choice in the first column. If you want to rank second and third choices, rank them in the second and third columns. In each race, you can only select one candidate in each column.

If you make a mistake while completing your ballot, just ask an election judge for a new ballot.

How are votes counted?

On election night, the first-choice votes for all candidates are counted. If a candidate receives enough votes to win, he or she is elected. For example, in the race for mayor, a candidate needs more than half the total votes to win.

If no candidate receives enough votes to win, the candidate with the fewest votes is eliminated. The votes for that candidate are reallocated based on those ballots' second choices. If that step leaves one candidate with more than the required threshold of votes, that candidate is the winner.

If there's still no candidate with enough votes to win, the candidate remaining with the lowest number of votes is eliminated, and his or her votes are reallocated based on the next remaining ranking on those ballots. If a voter's second choice candidate was already eliminated, the third choice gets the vote. The process continues until one candidate reaches the threshold of required votes, and that candidate is declared the winner.

Register to vote

Who is eligible to vote?

To be an eligible voter, a person must meet the following criteria:

Pre-registration for voting closed Oct. 15. If you pre-registered, you can use the voter registration lookup to confirm your registration by visiting vote.minneapolismn.gov/voters/pre-register.

You do not need to re-register every year. Unless you move or change your name, your registration remains in effect as long as you vote at least every four years.

You may register at your polling place on Election Day

To register at your polling place on Election Day, bring one of the proofs of residence required to register and vote.

The most common proofs are a valid Minnesota driver's license or a Minnesota state identification card with your current home address.

Or a neighbor or friend registered in your precinct may vouch for you.

See a full list of approved proofs of residence at vote.minneapolismn.gov/voters/election-day-register.

If you are planning to register at your polling place on Election Day, please allow extra time.

Find out where to vote

All absentee ballots need to be received prior to Election Day. To check the status of your absentee ballot, use the absentee ballot lookup at vote.minneapolismn.gov/voters.

Need help on Election Day?

Voters who aren't able to enter a polling place may register and vote without leaving their vehicles. To use curbside voting, send someone in to inform the election judges that you need to vote from your car. Two election judges of different political parties will come out to help you vote.

Voters who need help translating the ballot may bring someone to help or ask for help from the election judges. Please allow extra time for language support.

Voters who need help reading the ballot may bring someone to help or ask for help from the election judges.

Voters may also bring voting information with them into the voting booths, including a sample ballot.

AutoMARK machines are available for voters who require verbal descriptions of the ballot or other assistance reading or marking the ballot.

Enclosed with this mailer, you'll find a sample of the ballot for your precinct.
Use it to plan ahead and be ready for Election Day.
Your ward and precinct number are noted on the top left corner of the ballot.
